OUTLINES.

President Roosevelt received a tremendous ovation yesterday at Portsmouth, Va., where he delivered the Federal Decoration Day address and unveiled a beautiful monument erected under the auspices of the Army and Navy Union to dead comrades; thousands heard the President speak, and the graves of the Federal dead were decorated, several thousand men were in th procession, including Federal and Confederate veterans——At Richmond yesterday the graves of the Federal dead were decorated, and flowers were strewn on the graves of 16,000 Confederate dead——President Roosevelt yesterday delivered an address to the Negro and Indian students at Hampton Institute, said to the negro students specially that education, industrial training, and character is what their race needs, urging them to aspire to own farms——During the parade in Portsmouth yesterday the President stopped and shook hands with Col. tSewart commanding Stonewall Camp, U. C. V.——The House Committee on Appropriations yesterday had a warm time in fixing the responsibility for an absolute disregard of the act of Congress as to the appropriation of $1,500,00 for the new building for the Agricultural Department; it developed that President Roosevelt and Secretary Wilson so changed the plans, that it will require an expenditure of $2,000,000 in addition to the appropriation——Chairman Shonts of the Panama Canal Commission addressed the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce last night, taking strong grounds for a lock canal——King Alfonso and Princess of Ena of Battenberg will be wedded today, and on the eve of the wedding all Madrid engaged in festivities last night——Among the floral offerings laid on President McKinley's tomb at anton, O., yesterday were beautiful ones sent by President Roosevelt and Vice President aFirbanks.

With the Russian Parliament doing like there wasn't any Czar worth mentioning, the Czar now knows how President Roosevelt feels when Congress acts like the Douma.

A Massachusetts man denies that he has a wife and she swears that he has. We refuse married men space to say that she is the first woman they ever heard of that was so easy on her husband that he lost his memory.

The women who want Mormon Smoot turned out of the Senate have not stopped to think that the Mormon Legislature of Utah would doubtless elect as his successor a man that would call for more petitions.

The Iowa prohibitionists have nominated a man named Coffin for Governor. Coffin must understand that he will be buried under in November but, of course, he will not look on that as a grave matter.

The Princess Ena, of England, who went over to Madrid to marry King Alfonso to-day, several days ago tried her hand on the King by inducing him to pardon a man who was dressed-up to be hanged. She established a precedent before marriage and Fons may expect to have to do what she tells him hereafter.

In the discussion of the care for the insane, by the State Medical Society at Charlotte, on Tuesday, the conclusion was reached that there are in North Carolina 2,500 insane white people uncared for. Surely there is no voter in North Carolina who would disapprove of a large expenditure by the 1907 Legislature to partly remedy this state of affairs.

The rowing, wrangling and fighting in the Democratic State convention in Tennessee on Tuesday is a continuation of bad blood stirred up by the politicians who strive mightily when the time comes to canvass for nominations. Funny, but people will allow themselves to line up on one side or other when two politicians fight for an office without regard to whether it hurts the party or not.

The Hon. Jacob A. Long, of Graham, and Col. P. M. Pearsall, alleged manager of the campaign of the Hon. Franklin McNeill, are having newspaper correspondence of a muck-rakish order. Mr. McNeill is chairman of the North Carolina Corporation Commission, and is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for commissioner. Mr. Long is also making a fight for the nomination, and the fight is on the Georgia and Tennessee order. Pity.

MADE A ROUGH HOUSE

Shooting Affair Came Near Breaking Up Negro Memorial Day Celebration

SCENE MAS DISGRACEFUL

Rowdy Element of Race Precipitated Row Which Resulted in One Shooting Another, However, Not Dangerously—Wounded to Hospital.

Pandemonium broke loose, good and strong, among an immense gathering of colored people, who had assembled at the National Cemetery late yesterday afternoon to participate in the National Memorial exercises being observed there under the auspices of J. C. Abbott Post, Grand Army of the Republic, of this city, and for the time the proceedings came to an abrupt halt.

The excitement was caused by a shooting affray among young colored men at the gate enclosing the cemetery and near the scene of the observance. The band had just played a National anthem and the exercises were preparing to go off with a grand flourish, when three young colored men began to crowd a strange negro as the result of a quarrel that had developed, full grown, at the gate. The strange negro backed away from the increased number until his back was to the stone fence and then he drew a pistol. Quick as a flash, he fired at his closest adversary, dropping him to the ground and then ensued a running flight of the strange negro through the immense crowd. Some of the women managed to catch him and hold him for a few minutes but as his male pursuers came on, he broke away and took to the swamp, just east of the cemetery. There he was presumably surrounded by men and women in holiday dress, the line extending nearly to Delgado, but when Constable Savage and policemen reached the scene from town in response to telephone messages from runners sent to the nearest station, the man with the gun had eluded his pursuers and escaped. The wildest scenes were witnessed, according to reports, and many of the more timid women and children left the cemetery in post haste, believing the man on the ground with blood streaming from a wound in the temple, to be dead.

The injured man proved to be Neill McKoy, 17 or 18 years of age, and he was taken to the hospital in the ambulance where it was ascertained that the ball from the strange negro's pistol had passed entirely through his left hand and struck him on the left side of the head, near the temple, running backward under the scalp about three inches and glancing out. He probably had his hand raised to strike or ward off a blow or bullet when he was hit. His wounds are not dangerous and after they were dressed by Drs. Akerman and Slocum, at the hospital, he was sent to his home at 918 South Ninth street. The fugitive has not yet been arrested, though the shooting appears to have been justifiable and there was no occasion for him to run.

The observance of National Memorial Day in Wilmington is confined exclusively to colored people and the best element of that race greatly deplore the affair yesterday afternoon. The exercises arranged for the day consisted of a procession leaving Mabel Hall, on Campbell, between Sixth and Seventh streets, at 4:30 o'clock, headed by the Third North Carolina Band and exercises at the cemetery including an address by Rev. W. H. Moore, colored. The officers were: Chief Marshal, Dave Sasser; Master of Ceremonies, R. H. White; Chaplain, Rev. E. R. Bennett; Quartermaster, J. S. Sharp; Commander, A. Batson.

It was not learned yesterday whether the exercises were concluded after the shooting or not. At any rate, the attendance was considerably decreased just after the affair.

But we will be glad to receive definite information on the subject.

THE JURY TIED UP

Unable to Reach Verdict in Willson Damage Suit Against Coast Line

REMAINED OUT ALL NIGHT

Issues Submitted Late Yesterday Evening After All Day of Argument and Charge By Judge Webb—Other Proceedings.

As the paper goes to press this morning the jury in the Superior Court which has under consideration the issues in the damage suit of Charles D. Willson against the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, is locked up in the Court House, unable to agree on a verdict. At 12 o'clock, Deputy Sheriff Ed. Capps, who had the jury in charge for the night, said that all had gone to bed on cots kept in the Court House for that purpose and so far as he knew there was no possibility of an agreement; certainly not until this morning. Of course, anything as to the standing of the jury upon the issues would be more speculation.

The case was given to the jury a few minutes before 7 o'clock yesterday evening after a brief but very comprehensive charge by Judge Webb, presiding. Nearly all day was taken up with argument by counsel to the jury, each side being limited to three hours, nearly all of which time was advantaged of by both the plaintiff and defendant. In his charge, Judge Webb eliminated the $5,000 punitive damages asked for by the plaintiff, instructing the jury that they could award only actual damages, the full amount of which asked for is $5,000.

The witnesses examined yesterday morning upon the convening of court were General Green, colored, for the railroad company; Chas. Graham, colored, for the plaintiff and Mr. Willson, who was recalled in his own behalf. General Green was in the employ of the company at the time and testified that Mr. Willson at the time of the accident did not look, nor did he stop but walked heedlessly in front of the approaching car. He also said he assisted Mr. Willson off and that he did not seem to be hurt much.

Charles Graham, colored, a stevedore employed by Capt. Jno. M. Cazaux, said he witnessed the accident; that Mr. Willson did look and listen prior to going on the track. Witness assisted Mr. Willson off and he appeared right badly hurt.

Mr. Willson was recalled to deny the statement of General Green that he had assisted him off after the accident. The plaintiff introduced the private acts of 1899 to show that the Atlantic Coast Line was chartered in this State and was not strictly a Virginia corporation as alleged.

The argument was opened by J. O. Carr, Esq., for the plaintiff in a speech of 35 minutes and was followed by Woodus Kelum, Esq., who spoke twenty minutes in the same behalf. Herbert McClammy, Esq., opened the argument for the defendant company in an address of an hour and was followed by William J. Bellamy, Esq., in a speech of an hour and twenty minutes. The closing addresses were by Mr. Junius Davis, for the railroad company, and Mr. George Rountree, for the plaintiff, each of whom spoke about an hour and a half. All the speeches were remarked upon as being exceptionally good and an able presentation of the argument on both sides.

When court convenes at 9:30 o'clock this morning, the case of A. C. Nielson against the Southern Express Co., will be called. The plaintiff claims the loss of $36 in money from a package in transit from Wilson, S. C., to this city. A. J. Marshall, Esq., appears for Nielson and Herbert McClammy, Esq., for the Express Company. The case has been on the docket several years.

Case of the Pittsburg Lumber Co. against Z. P. Rowe was continued yesterday by consent. The talesmen summoned for the day were Wm. E. Worth, J. E. G. Brown, Jno. Q. Beckwith, Chas. R. Kriner and H. E. O'Keefe but their services were not needed and they were discharged.

A TRIANGULAR LEAGUE.

Southport and Fort Caswell Want to Join Wilmington.

Baseball enthusiasts at Southport and Fort Caswell are desirous of joining the Wilmington City Baseball League and expect to make a proposition to the local managers here in a short time. Whether such an alliance would be acceptable to the City League teams, which have such a limited time to play, is not known but such an arrangement would add no little interest to the sport, if an arrangement for a ball park could be made here.

BARACA BIBLE CLASS RALLY

Enjoyable Entertainment Given Last Night at Southside Baptist Church. Address by Rev. C. M. Rock.

The Baraca rally last night at Southside Baptist church was one of the most enjoyable affairs of its kind given in Wilmington in some time. All Baraca and Philathea Class workers in the city were invited and they came in unusually large numbers to enjoy the many pleasing things that were in store for them.

The exercises opened with a selection, "Hail Columbia!" by the Second Advent Orchestra, which contributed several numbers to the musical programme, sustaining its reputation as an organization of splendid merit.

The opening prayer was by Rev. C. H. Utley, a former pastor of the church, who was received with much pleasure by the young people upon the occasion of his visit.

"Refuge" was next rendered by a trio of talented singers composed of Messrs. J. H. Curtis, D. S. Bender, Jr., and J. W. Curtis. Then followed a Bible reading by the pastor, Rev. W. H. Davis, and a trio from the Philathea Class sweetly rendered, "Distant Chimes," the trio being composed of Mrs. J. W. Curtis, Mrs. Jno. W. Harper, Jr., and Mrs. D. S. Bender, Jr.

"Sweet Spirit, Hear My Prayer" was rendered by the orchestra and Mr. J. S. Canady introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. C. M. Rock, of Magnolia. Rev. Mr. Rock is especially interested in young people's work and made an excellent address.

The next number was "We Pray Thee" by a sextette from the Philathea and Baraca Classes, composed of Mrs. Bender, Mrs. Curtis, Mrs. Harper, Mr. Bender, Mr. J. H. Curtis and Mr. J. W. Curtis.

"The College Life" was rendered by the orchestra and Rev. Mr. Rock pronounced the benediction. Among the visitors in attendance upon the rally were Miss Lucy Cox, president of a Philathea Class of 45 girls in Magnolia; Mr. Graham Smith an enthusiastic Baraca worker in Magnolia, and Mrs. H. I. Bowen, of Burgaw.

THE SENATORIAL RACE.

New Primary Law Includes Candidates For General Assembly.

It develops from a close reading of the new primary law, which Representative G. J. Boney had passed by the last Legislature, that, after all, the nomination of a State Senator, so far as New Hanover is concerned, cannot take place until after the primaries to be held in this county Sept. 19th and that the nomination will not be a matter for the convention at all but for the people to express in the primaries. The law explicitly states: "That every political primary election held by any political party or organization for the selection of candidates for either branch of the General Assembly, or for county, city town or township offices; for selecting and instructing delegates to county conventions," etc., must be held under the new law. It would seem, therefore, that New Hanover cannot name her delegates to a Senatorial convention until the people have expressed themselves on the question in the primary to be held Sept 19th.

HONOR TO MR. JACOBS.

Freight Clerks Compliment Their Retiring Chief With Pretty Expression.

Mr. B. J. Jacobs, who after to-day retires from the local freight agency of the Atlantic Coast Line in Wilmington, yesterday shown a mark of distinguished appreciation by the clerks and other employes in his office. The expression of esteem took the form of the presentation of a very handsome, leather upholstered chair to the retiring agent, the address being made in the presence of all the employes by Mr. Thos. R. Post, who spoke for about 15 minutes, assuring Mr. Jacobs of the sincerity which prompted the gift and appreciation of the gentlemanly, courteous treatment always shown to the men by him in the freight department. Mr. Jacobs was almost overcome by the kindly expressions through Mr. Post, but accepted the gift neatly and assured the men in the office of his personal regard and always high esteem.

Insurance and Gasolene.

Secretary S. M. Boatwright, of the Local Board of Fire Underwriters, is sending out notices to property owners giving notice that unless the rules and regulations of the Southeastern Tariff Association are observed with reference to the handling of gasolene, etc., on advance of 50 cents per hundred will have to made in rates and that under certain conditions no insurance at all will be allowed. The careless handling of such inflammables will again be called to the attention of the Board of Aldermen and it is probable that an ordinance will be passed to remedy the evil.

CARRIERS ORGANIZE

Eastern North Carolina R. F. D. Association Formed In this City Yesterday

GIVEN A CORDIAL WELCOME

Address by Postmaster T. E. Wallace. Officers Elected and Delegates Named to State Convention at Kinston in July.

The Rural Mail Carriers of Eastern North Carolina met in this city yesterday and effected a permanent organization at an interesting session held in the parlors of the Elks' Temple, beginning at 11:30 o'clock in the morning. The attendance was very good and the greatest enthusiasm was shown.

Postmaster T. E. Wallace in his characteristic happy manner and elegant diction, welcomed the visitors in a splendid address, appropriate to the occasion and of peculiar interest to those assembled. It was greatly appreciated by the carriers many of whom assured Mr. Wallace personally of their distinguished consideration. After the address a permanent organization was effected by the election of the following officers:

President—R. F. Gore, of Wilmington.

Vice-President—W. T. Robbins, of Phoenix.

Secretary—E. D. Pearsall, of Rocky Mount.

Treasurer—D. J. Ward, of Winnabow.

Delegates to State Convention at Kinston, July 3rd and 4th—W. T. Robbins, Phoenix; C. J. Southerland, Kenansville; alternates, E. D. Pearsall, Rocky Point, and J. L. Barden, of Warsaw.

By resolution the name of the organization just effected was made the "Eastern North Carolina Rural Letter Carriers' Association." A resolution was unanimously adopted, thanking Postmaster Wallace for his timely address and requesting its publication in the city press, Atlanta Constitution and R. F. D. News. A resolution was also adopted, thanking Wilmington Lodge of Elks, No. 392 for the generous use of its hall; also to Senator F. M. Simmons and Representative Chas. R. Thomas for their strenuous efforts in behalf of the rural carriers of the country in general.

The time and place of next meeting was decided upon as Wilmington on Labor Day, September 3rd.

The following carriers were in attendance upon the meeting of the Association yesterday: R. F. Gore, Wilmington; W. T. Robbins, Phoenix; E. D. Pearsall, Rocky Point; D. J. Ward, Winnabow; W. F. Register, White Oak; L. L. Guyton, Wilmington; H. W. Whitney, Chadbourn; H. L. Hoey, Faison; Jas. T. Barden, Warsaw; S. L. Bradshaw, Rose Hill; C. F. Matthews, Watha; C. J. Southerland, Kenansville; J. H. Fussell, Rose Hill; A. J. Mallard, Atkinson; C. W. Clark, Chadbourn; W. H. Pridgen, Currie; F. B. Orr, Currie.

Mr. Wallace's Address.

The address of Postmaster Wallace, which gives much interesting information in regard to the Rural Free Delivery Service, and which so well voices the sentiment of the people in its words of greeting to the carriers, is as follows:

To the Rural carriers of the adjoining counties, Wilmington bids welcome, and it is but natural that the heartiness of her hospitality would be extended unstintedly to a class of men whose daily avocations are of such a character as to always make them welcome in their individual capacities to the homes of all the people throughout this broad land, and whose visits are the cause of more rejoicings as glad tidings are conveyed from the dear ones at a distance, and messages of affection and love are brought to the anxious waiters.

While your visit to this city is of a personal nature and it is to be hoped for your individual benefit, let your efforts also be in the direction of establishing a friendlier and more companionable feeling among yourselves, and by banding yourselves in an organization let your aims be for the betterment of the service and a clearer conception of the duties that are assigned to you by the department, thereby bringing about that unity of action which is so essential in all undertakings of the magnitude of that branch of the service with which you are connected.

The Rural Free Delivery Service is as yet an infant, whose lustiness of growth is far beyond his years.

Like all new departures and radical changes it met with considerable opposition when the idea was at first broached, which was no doubt due largely to the fact that it was not clearly understood, and it was also antag-

A HORRIBLE EXAMPLE.

Of course lynching is horrible to think of, and everybody with humane feeling and deep regard for the law abhors it. The case of mob murder at Wadesboro last Monday morning has shocked the State and called forth the condemnation of the press. Governor Glenn very properly took prompt action to have an investigation made, and Judge Walter Neal is now at Wadesboro doing that with the assistance of Solicitor L. D. Robinson. From all accounts the investigation will not only place a stigma upon Anson county and North Carolina, but will reveal a circumstance that will make the affair all the more horrible. It is said that the man who was lynched was of unsound mind, and of that the Charlotte Observer says:

"The man Johnson, who was lynched at Wadesboro Monday morning, was an insane person. He would have been admitted to the State Hospital at Morganton more than a year ago, except that there was no room for him. He was treated for a month at Broadoaks Sanitarium and withdrawn because he was not able to pay the charges. Dr. Murphy and Dr. Taylor, speaking yesterday of the lynching, expressed no doubt about the lunacy of the victim. This deepens the already deep damnation of his taking off.' But there is another reflection: By reason of the fact that the State had made no provision for his care, he killed Gwinn Johnson; has been himself killed; a stain has been put upon the reputation of the State; an evil example has been set lawless men and the county of Anson has been subjected to great cost in money and is to suffer more."

The lynching in itself was deplorable but it is made all the more so if the mob has taken vengeance on an irresponsible man. It will be another strong evidence against the haste and unreasonableness of the conduct of mobs. It is a horrible example.

BUTLER FACTION ON TOP.

Former Senator Marion Butler, who staid in Washington when the Republican State executive committee met at Greensboro, had a hand in the affair whether he was present or not. That bears out the Star's prediction, and if what the former Senator tells the Washington Post is correct, about all the Star predicted came true. It was the prediction that it would turn out to be a Butler managed affair and that he would come out on top.

The Post on Tuesday says:

"The attention of former Senator Marion Butler was called yesterday to the special from Greensboro, N. C., which appeared in Sunday's Post to the effect that 'the Butler faction of the Republican party of the State had been overthrown by Congressman Blackburn."

"There is not a word of truth in it," Senator Butler said promptly. "The party is solidly united, save for the few insurgents led by Blackburn. At the committee meeting Judge Spencer B. Adams was elected State chairman (to succeed Mr. Rollins, resigned), and he received every vote except Mr. Blackburn's. There was not even one to put Mr. Blackburn in nomination, so he put a Mr. Harris in nomination and could not get a second.

"'Mr. Blackburn will be weaker at the State convention than he was at the committee meeting."

"'But Mr. Blackburn claims he won a victory in getting an early convention," Mr. Butler was asked.

"Yes; but that is also absolutely false," said the Senator. "The organization was in favor of an early convention. I myself favored June 28. But it was learned that Secretary Taft and National Chairman Cortelyou, who were to be invited to attend, could not go before July, and so July 10 was fixed to suit their convenience."

"Continuing, the Senator said: "We will have a great State convention and a vigorous and winning campaign under the aggressive leadership of Judge Adams. You may look for the Old North State to soon land in the Republican column."

Blackburn may have been downed at Greensboro, but when Butler goes to predicting that North Carolina is going into the Republican column again, he will doubtless find that he is a false prophet. A burnt child dreads the fire, and Butler caused the State to get dreadfully burned once when his Pop party fused with the Republicans of whom he is now the chief.

THE SOUTH'S COTTON SUPREMACY.

New Orleans is in the midst of the finest cotton growing country in the world and the New Orleans Picayune is one of the best authorities on the industry in this country. It is an industry in which the whole world is interested, as the majority of people depend upon it for clothing, and anything upon the subject is generally interesting and specially so to the people of the South whose chief agricultural product and source of wealth is the fleecy staple. On that subject the New Orleans Picayune contributes the following editorial:

"While there is small danger that the South's supremacy in the production of the world's cotton supply will ever be successfully rivaled, it is not wise to ridicule or minimize the efforts that are being made to develop the growth of cotton in Africa and elsewhere. That there is ample area suited to cotton culture outside of the United States which has not yet been even touched, there can be no doubt. Much of this area is not available at the present time owing to the lack of the proper transportation facilities from such possible fields of production to the world's markets, but that is an obstacle that can and will be overcome.

"The spinning interests of Lancashire have for several years been seriously in earnest in building up new sources of production of the raw material. They realize not only the dangers arising from the high prices for cotton, but foresee the possibility that eventually the American production may not more than suffice to meet the consumption of American mills, leaving nothing for export. To guard against such a contingency, remote as it seems at the present time, the British cotton interests some time ago organized the British Cotton Growing Association for the avowed purpose of encouraging and assisting the extension of cotton production in British possessions and elsewhere. This Association has done a good deal to inaugurate cotton culture in the British possessions in Africa, and has already built up quite an industry in Lagos, where it is expected that as much as 10,000 bales of 400 pounds average will be produced this year as compared with 3,000 bales last year. Of course, these figures look insignificant by comparison, but they show the possibilities of cotton cultivation in Africa, and as similar attempts are being made elsewhere in British Africa and in German Africa as well, the Dark Continent in time promises to become a cotton producer of some consequence.

"The present production of cotton barely suffices to meet the world's requirements even with the price of the raw material at a very high range. This country is capable of greatly increasing its production if labor of the proper sort were available, which it is not at the present time. As the world's consumption increases, it is important that this country should also increase its production, so as to furnish no excuse for a too rapid development of foreign sources of production. While overproduction is bad policy it is equally bad to restrict production artificially in order to keep prices up to an abnormal level. With the immigration to this section of a class of thrifty white farmers, both from the northern portions of Europe and from the Western States, the production of cotton is certain to increase along safe lines as such farmers will diversify crops and greatly reduce the actual cost of growing cotton, the main money crop of the section.

"No other country is better adapted to cotton cultivation than the southern portion of the United States. Cotton cannot only be produced more cheaply, but of qualities more suitable to the needs of the mills than can be produced in any other part of the world. While it is excellent policy to manufacture at home as large a proportion of our raw cotton as possible, it is equally wise to supply the world's needs over and above our own as far as it is possible, and with the immense area available for cotton cultivation there need never be any serious difficulty in not only providing all the cotton our mills at home can consume, but in filling export requirements as well."

We have several times remarked that the South can now produce more cotton than the world needs. We proved that by our overproduction in 1904, a surplus from which is coming over into the 1905 supply. There is complaint of a scarcity of labor in the South, yet it seems that we have enough to produce from 13,000,000 to 14,000,000 bales of cotton when we take a notion. With plenty of labor, we are satisfied that the cotton crop of the South could be easily doubled. Of course it would require double our present supply of labor, but so far as the area of land suitable for cotton culture is concerned, it is immense. North Carolina is the smallest cotton producing State in the Belt, but the area of land adaptable to cotton culture is capable of producing five times as much cotton as our State now grows. We are glad, however, that North Carolina agriculture is diversified and we hope our North Carolina farmers will stick to that policy unless the world wants to pay the price for raising cotton.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—The statement that Princess Ena carries 20 trunks merely whet curiosity. What's in the trunks?—Philadelphia Ledger.

—"Keep your money and your boy apart," says Senator Dolliver. That's easier than teaching them to stay together.—Washington Post.

—A young Yale student denies that he is the husband of a chorus girl, while she says he is, and maintains she ought to know.—New York News.

—One thing can be said for the insurance companies under the old extravagant management. They gave away good blotters.—Somerville Journal.

—The New York judges who decided in the Perkins case that it is not larceny to give away somebody else's money must have had in mind the example set by Congress.—Washington Post.

—King Alfonso in promising his fiancee that after their marriage she may do pretty much as she pleases is developing powers of diplomacy that Americans had not hitherto suspected.—Philadelphia North American.

—A ship canal across the Bayonne peninsula to connect Newark and New York Bays is projected; but we haven't heard it proposed that it ought to be a lock canal. That type has hitherto been reserved for waterways in which the sea-level was impossible—Brooklyn Citizen.

—That is indeed a nice spectacle presented in Washington of former Senator Marion Butler holding up the confirmation of Postmaster Ramsey, of Salisbury, especially in view of the fact that Salisbury is the home of Senator Overman, who evidently favors confirmation.—Charlotte Observer.

—Petitions to the corporation commission are in circulation here, asking it to reduce the tolls of the Bell Telephone Company in Charlotte. It is easy to get signatures to a petition—doubly so when the granting of it means a saving of money to the signer. Yet it is a fact that the Bell Company is giving Charlotte a splendid telephone service and the further fact remains that a good article of any kind is worth paying for. Furthermore, the Bell people have an investment of $100,000 in this city; of their own motion they put their wires underground, and in all particulars are treating the public with consideration. In return for this they deserve some consideration. Charlotte has had experience with a 'cheap" telephone service and this experience should make it willing to pay hereafter a fair price for a good one.—Charlotte Observer.

DRINK DISEASE CAN BE CURED

It is Up to the Patient—Greensboro Keeley Institute Does the Work for Unfortunates.

The Keeley Institute, Greensboro, N. C.

I took the treatment at the Keeley Institute at Greensboro, N. C., in 1898, and can testify that it has cured me of the disease of strong drink, and that I am a new man. I was disagreeable to my family and to the country around, and did not deserve good at the hands of any one; but when I went to your Institute at Greensboro, I was treated with the greatest kindness and consideration, and, after remaining there a short while I was thoroughly cured of the drink habit. I would advise all who are given to strong drink to go at once and be cured at Greensboro. It is a wonderful cure. Any man who desires to do so can stop the use of liquor by taking your treatment. The manager, physician, and attendants are all courteous and attentive, and the table is excellent and the Institute is a comfortable and pleasant home.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—At Charlotte on Tuesday night, Sallie Belle Jordan, colored, was fatally shot by Charles Johnson, colored, who escaped.

—The Wilkes county Republican convention was held in the court house in Wilkesboro on Monday. It was a clear victory for Blackburn.

—The announcement by the Hon. John E. oWodard, of Wilson, that he will not be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the second district, leaves an entirely clear field for the renomination of Congressman Claude Kitchin.

—Governor Glenn has appointed the following delegates to the Southern Cotton Growers' convention to be held June 21-21 at Monteno, Benton county, Arkansas: S. B. Taner, Henrietta; C. B. Bryan, C. C. Moore, D. A. Tompkins, R. M. Miller, Jr., Charlotte; Jno. P. Allison, Concord.

—The schooner Melville belonging to Mr. E. B. Bell, of Swan Quarter, was burned at the month of Goose Creek, near Washington, N. C., last Saturday. The fire started in the cargo while the crew was ashore and both the cargo and vessel was destroyed.

—At Charlotte on Tuesday the State Board of Medical Examiners licensed 85 out of a class of 132 applicants for license to practice medicine. Dr. L. M. Gaines, of Wake Forest, won first honor; Dr. J. H. Harper, of Snow Hill, second, and Dr. Mary L. Martin, of Davidson, third in the examination.

—Fayetteville special, May 29: Last night fire destroyed much of the large Poe brickmaking plant, boiler, cooking machinery, dry house and great shed, the office being saved. The loss is $10,000 with $2,000 insurance. The plant will be rebuilt at once. Workmen are to-day clearing off the ruins.

—In the Superior Court at Winston-Salem on Tuesday, Judge Peebles presiding, the 12 necessary jurymen were secured in the case against Wiliam Plean, J. E. Whiteback and Sam Kobre, charged jwth the murder of the latter's brother, Henry Kobre. Eighty seven witnesses have been summoned and the State began its examination of witnesses Tuesday afternoon.

—The agricultural bill, which has just passed the United States Senate, carries a number of items of interest to North aCrolinians. One of these items, which has not as yet received mention, is an amendment introduced by Senator Latimer, of South Carolina, appropriating $20,000 for the purpose of making a survey of the swamp lands of the Southern States, with a view to the ultimate drainage of these lands, where such object may be found feasible.

—Southern Pines correspondence: Like the rest of the Southern railroads, this division of the Seaboard is overwhelmed with business. A few years ago the division was practically reconstructed, with curves eliminated, grades reduced and roadbed improved, but the traffic increases faster than physical improvement can be made. It is now apparent that the Seaboard will have to face the prospect of an enormous increase of its long sidings, with the certainty of an ultimate double track.

New York dispatch, May 29th: The will of Edward G. Weed, filed with the surrogate for probate to-day, presents an unusual matrimonial tangle. Weed died in this city December —th, on which day he made a will bequeathing his whole estate to "My wife, Ella Allen Weed, who lives at Fayetteville. N. C." The petition, filled with the will by Morris Hirch, states that the deceased left no real and personal property and avers that the heirs at law and next of kin are "Ella Allen Weed, wife No. 2, Ballston, Va.; Lucy Lockwood, wife No. 1, of 128 Everhard street, Jackson, Mich." A brother is also named as being with wife No. 2 in Virginia. Wife No. 1 is with the father, Porter C. Weed.

—A package of 15 letters, made up Saturday night at the Fayetteville post office for the northbound mail and express on the Atlantic Coast Line, was found Sunday morning on the railroad track near Godwin, north of Fayetteville, by a colored man who admitted that he opened all of them, many containing checks to the aggregate of several hundred dollars, but the contents were all intact. The negro gave the letters to Mr. G. L. Heming, living near Godwin, who took them to Fayetteville and delivered them to Postmaster McCaskill. Whether the package was lost through carelessness or by the jolting of the car on the track, or was stolen and lost or thrown away, will remain for an official investigation.

—Charlotte Observer: Within a fortnight or three weeks an automobile line will be established between Rutherfordton and Asheville, to give double daily passenger service between these points. The line will be from Rutherfordton, through the beautiful Chimney Rock section, to Hendersonville and thence to Asheville. The promoter of the enterprise is a Shelby man who has just returned from the West, where he saw several such lines in successful operation. The new line will be a great convenience to the people who travel in that section of the North Carolina mountain country, and whos pend a part of the Summer there. It will be between 50 and 60 miles long and two or more machines, large touring cars, will be kept. A machine will leave Rutherfordton and Asheville each day in the morning and make the return trip in the afternoon.

—Southern Pines correspondence: The thorough rains of the last three days have saved the dewberry crop, which will now be ready for picking as soon as the weather settles. Last week it was feared that the crop would be ruined by the drought, which was drying the berries on the bushes. The change is remarkable and the indications now are that good returns will come from an excellent crop. In common with the rest of the State, Moore county is facing a scarcity of labor. As the fruit harvest approaches, it becomes a problem where to get pickers. Although the wages to be earned during the fruitpicking season are higher than have ever prevailed here the demand for a big force at short notice is a troublesome situation. Some of the planters need from 100 to 200 hands, and they are hard to get. That difficulty is tending to limit the acreage of orchard products in this section.

—Asheville special, May 29th: Judge Pritchard has signed a judgment in the case of the Morton Trust Co., of New York, against the Whittier Lumber Comapny, directing that the lands of the Whittier Lumber Company, be sold at public auction to satisfy notes held by the Morton Trust Company, aggregating more than $400,000 and interest. The sale of the timber lands of the Whittier Company will be one of the largest transfers in real estate in Western North Carolina for years. The company owns more than 70,000 acres of lands in Swain county, some of which contain the finest hardwoods in the State, valued at $1,000,000. In 1899 the Whittier Lumber Company issued bonds to the amount of $400,000 and the Morton Trust Company practically owns the bonds. The notes or bonds were secured by a deed of trust on the timber lands and, in default of payment of the bonds and interest. Judge Pritchard has appointed George Spears Reynolds, of Asheville, special master and directs that the lands be sold at public auction and the proceeds applied to the debt.

IT'S YOUR KIDNEYS.

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles—A Wilmington Citizen Shows How to Cure Them.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness, when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes or Bright's disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Wilmington people testify to permanent cures.

E. Poezolt, merchant tailor, of Eight South Front street, residing at 315 North Sixth street, says: "My wife used Doan's Kidney Pills and in her case they proved to be an effective remedy. She suffered with her ankles and could scarcely get down stairs in the morning. We thought it was rheumatism and her ankles would be all pulled up every morning so she could hardly hobble around. Since obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at R. R. Bellamy's drug store and taking them she seems like another person. She is better in the morning, the swelling left her ankle and from the great relief she obtained we are only two glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to others."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Sure cure for Biliousness, Neuralgia, Weakness and all Stomach, Liver, Kidney and Bladder derangements. A wonderful Tonic. At all drug stores. 50 cents.

DR. E. P. PORTER MARRIED.

Bride and Groom Spending Their Honeymoon at Rocky Point.

Friends in this city will read with interest and pleasure the following from Saturday's Times-Union of Albany, N. Y.:

"An unusually pretty wedding was solemnized early this afternoon, when Miss Winifred M. Hakes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Hakes of Petersburg, N. Y., was united in marriage to Dr. E. Pender Porter, of Brooklyn. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Chauncey D. Hakes, 61 Lancaster street, Rev. A. C. Youmans, pastor of the First Christian church, officiating. The bride wore her going away gown of tan Rajah silk with hat of Tuscan straw trimmed with pink roses. The bouquet was of lilies of the valley. She was attended by her niece. Miss Alice Hakes, who wore white batiste and lace, and carried pink sweet peas. Captain John Lanyon, of Brooklyn, was best man. After the ceremony, Caterer McElveny served the wedding breakfast, covers being laid for ten. The dinning room was effectively decorated with American beauty roses, as was the drawing room. Dr. Porter's gift to his bride was a marquise diamond ring. Late this afternoon Dr. Porter and his bride left for New York en route to Wilmington, N. C., where they will be the guests for two weeks of the groom s parents. On their return they will reside at No. 1 Glenade Place, Brooklyn, where they will be at home after June 15th.

"The bride is a beautiful blonde and highly accomplished. She is a former pupil of St. Agnes school and a graduate of the Emma Willard conservatory of music. The groom is a graduate of Davidson college, North Carolina, and of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York. He is a member of the house staff of St. John's hospital, Brooklyn. They were the recipients of many beautiful presents."

Dr. Porter is a son of Dr. E. Porter, of Rocky Point, and has a wide circle of friends in this State who will receive with pleasure the announcement that he has joined the Benedicts. The bride and groom are spending their honeymoon at Dr. Porter's fine plantation at Rocky Point.

MR. ROOSEVELT ADVISES NEGROES

good and decent man. From the standpoint of the white man, the safest and best thing that can happen is to have the colored people around him become thrifty, industrious, home-makers and home keepers, for you never yet had any formidable quantity of criminals from a people or locality where the average type was the home-maker and the home-keeper. So that from the standpoint of the white man nothing better can be done than to give to the colored man that real education, that real training which he gets here at Hampton and in similar institutions. From the stand-point of the colored man, the only real way to help him is to help him help himself. In the long run in this world, no human being can be carried. What this institution does is to train young men and women to walk by themselves. The colored man who helps his race most is he who helps teach the members of his race how to conduct themselves with self-respect as hard working, intelligent, law abiding citizens. It is the humble creatures that count in the long run. No race, no nationality ever really raises itself by the exhibition of genius in a few men; what counts is character, the character of the average man and the average woman. If we can develop in the average colored citizen those qualities of character, of courage, of truthfulness, of sense of obligation, of willingness to work, of desire to behave decently toward those round about you, you have taken the longest and most effective step toward securing for the people of your own race their own self respect and the respect of others, which will follow inevitably to the training of that self respect.

"You have sent out from Hampton Institute in all something like 5,000 graduates and if I remember rightly there are but two of whom you have record who are criminals, and that fact is an all-sufficient answer to the blind people who say that no good will come from educating the negro. So far as that from the truth, that it may be said that the only real hope for the negro as well as for the white man is in education, if only we understand the meaning of education in its proper sense.

"It is often said that the true place for the negro is in industrial work. It is. That is the place for the average negro. That is the true place for the average negro, and it is the true place of the average white man, and we will not get our civilization upon a proper basis until we root out of the mind of the average man and the average girl of whatever color, the belief that to become a poor clerk is a better thing than being a fist-class hard-worker, a first-class mechanic or a first-class agricultural laborer.

"Most important of all is character. Character isn't a thing that depends upon race anymore than the ability to perform manual labor well. If you are a good man, you are a good man no matter what your color. And if you are a worthless man you are a worthless citizen, and I draw this one distinction—remember, that while the good man of your race may be a help to other races, just as much as to help yours, the bad man of your race is infinitely worse for them than for any other. The negro criminal, no matter at whose expense the particular crime may be committed, is a hundredfold more dangerous to the negro race than to the white race, because he tends to arouse the bitter animosities, the bitter prejudices for which not he alone, but the whole race will suffer. In the interest of the colored folks see to it, you colored men here, that you war against criminality in your own race with a particular zeal, because that criminality is in the ultimate analysis a greater danger to your race than any other thing can be. I ask that you colored people show the same virtues which white people must show if they are to become good citizens."

WEDDING OF ALFONSO

The marriage contract appears tonight in the official gazette. Article II gives the bride an annual income of $90,000 and in the event of the King's death $50,000. In Article III. Princess Victoria renounces all right of succession to the British throne. The other articles relate to the marriage.

Preceeding the signature of the contract the Spanish journalists present to King Alfonso a golden pen with which to sign the document. The King laughingly accepted the gift, declaring that he always had defended the Spanish press against criticisms.

Many receptions were hel dto-night, among them those at the British embassy to the Prince of Wales, at the Italian embassay to the Duke of Genoa, at the German embassy to Prince Albrecht of Prussia, at the Franch embassy to General Dahlstein, and at the American legation to special envoy Whitridge. This latter reception was attended by many prominent personages in diplomatic and court circles.

Plot to Aassassinate King.

London, May 30.—A plot to assassinate King Alfonso on his wedding day has been discovered in London, according to an unconvincing story published in the Evening Standard this afternoon. Fifty anarchists of England, France and Spain, who are said to be concerned in the conspiracy are alleged to be on their way to Madrid with the intent of carrying out the attempt as the King is leaving the church. The plan is said to have been hatched in Spain and London, but it is added that the Police got wind of the affair and will take all the precautions necessary to protect the King. The project, it is asserted, included a revolution after the assassination, with a view to overthrowing the monarchy. The Evening Standard further asserts that Spanish officers are implicated in the plot.

There Are Five of Them, and Each Has Its Own Duty.

In their antennae, or feelers, ants have five noses, each of which has its own duties to perform.

One nose tells the ant whether it is in its own nest or that of an enemy; another nose discriminates between odors of ants of the same species, but of different colonies; a third nasal organ serves the purpose of discerning the scent laid down by the ant's own feet, so that it may be able to retrace the way quite easily; a fourth nose smells the larvae and pupae, and the fifth nose detects the presence of an enemy.

If an ant be deprived of a certain nose, it will live peaceably with enemies, but if it retains its fifth nose it will fight the alien to the death. There is a difference in the functions of nose one and nose five, although they appear to be somewhat alike.

This sense of smell does not come till the ants are three days old. If, therefore, ants only twelve hours old are placed among others belonging to different colonies, they will grow up quite amicably and not understand that they are a mixed lot, because they will have grown up with ideas of scent in accordance with their surroundings. The sense of smell to them is as important as the sense of sight to human beings.

Breaking It Gently.

A peculiar instance of breaking a misfortune "gently" belongs to the life of the young man who was Earl of Barrymore in the eighteenth century. Soon after he had become a pupil at Eton his grandmother, the Countess of Harrington, died, and the head master of the school was asked to break the news gently to his sensitive pupil.

The master called the boy into the class room and asked him, with an austere air, a series of questions in regard to his studies and then commanded him to construe some lines from Virgil. Before the task had been accomplished he informed the pupil somewhat harshly:

"Your grandmother is ill, my lord," but in the same breath bade him go on with his Latin. After a few more lines had been construed he stopped him again with the assertion:

"She is very ill, my lord!"

The earl expressed his grief, but was again ordered to proceed with his task. He obeyed, but was interrupted the next moment by his master's exclamation:

"She's dying, my lord!"

"What! Dying?" cried the bewildered youth.

"Come, come, my lord!" said the learned pedagogue. "She is dead! Now you know the worst. Go to your seat and make the best of an irretrievable misfortune!"

The Military Salute.

The military salute required in almost all civilized countries is nearly the same. Perhaps in Germany, however, the regulations are somewhat more stringent. A soldier on meeting the emperor has to stand still, face about and remain with hand raised for from twelve to twenty paces before his majesty approaches and for the same distance after he has passed. In Belgium an officer has to do the same thing for the king and subalterns for generals, though ten paces only are required for the latter case. Soldiers carrying anything so that their hands are quite occupied salute with their eyes—that is, they turn their heads in the direction of the person coming and going. French officers raise their caps to each other, but the privates do as the privates in other armies do.—London Standard.

NEGRO'S STORY OF BRUTALITY

George Stoball, of Wilson, Tells Harrowing Tale of Treatment by Bosses of Railroad Camp.

(Charlotte Observer.)

Salisbury, May 29.—George Stoball, alias Will White, a colored man, came to Salisbury yesterday from the Marion camp where the S. & W. railroad is being graded, and showed evidences of inhuman treatment received there last week. The negro is not smart but tells a story, any part of which, if true, as related, portrays a fearful condition of brutality. It is hardly to be believed that everything is as he represented it.

White says that he came to camp No. 9 from Wilson and went to work on the grade. Before the allotted time of 90 days had expired, he grew tired of the treatment and last Thursday decided to leave and go to town, Marion being his objective point. As he started off a walking boss, he says, drew his gun on him and prevented his leaving, telling him that he would be killed if he left. The negro said the white boss then gathered four men, whose names he remembered and proceeded to the woods where they began to flog him. One used a blackjack with which he knocked White down and the men all covered him with pistols. The four aiding in the beating used their fists and beat him in the face, numerous bruises and scars testifying to punishment of some kind at the hands of somebody. Upon his naked body there are many marks which, he says, were made with a chain to which short pieces of leather were attached. He has bruised and swollen ankles and his throat is inflamed from some cause, to choking he attributes it He is a badly done up man, though his story is open to question.

When he was released, White says he was ordered back to camp and threatened with death if he told how he came by his injuries. For several days he declares that he said nothing about the matter and first said he had been stung by a bee and later that he had been kicked by a mule. It is a story of such sensational nature that it will be investigated and the matter has been put into the hands of attorneys who will immediately make inquiries relative to it.

GLOBE TROTTER ON FOOT.

Interesting Experiences of a Romanian Traveler In Various Places.

Nicholas Georgis is a Roumanian traveler now in Africa, who is going around the world on foot. He carries a book signed by the various dignitaries of the places through which he has passed, and among others are portions in Arabic, Greek, Abyssinian—one page written by the Emperor Menelik, with whom he dined—besides numerous European languages. The traveler made his way through the Sahara desert, carrying eighty pounds of water on his back, and when this was exhausted he had to exist for many days upon roots alone. On the Sudan-Abyssinian boundary he was pursued by three lions and kept up a tree for three days, while farther back, at Nhiamdieh, through mistaking the White and Blue Nile, he lost his way and was attacked by cannibal pygmies. In the Sudan he found the sun's heat so unbearable that he traveled only at night, while during the day he lay with his water bags in a pit.

Elevated Road Hangs In Air.

To relieve congested traffic conditions in Berlin it is proposed to erect a monorail suspended electric railway, such as has been for some time in successful operation between Eberfeed and Barmen, Germany, writes Dr. Alfred Gradenwitz in Technical World Magazine. The passenger cars in this system hang down from a single overhead rail and have no support whatever underneath. Advantages of the system are its perfect safety, the fact that the superstructure is comparatively simple and does not shut out the light and air, as does an ordinary elevated structure, and the further fact that in operation the monorail cars are almost completely noiseless. It seems probable that the monorail suspended system will be adopted in the German capital.

The End of Importance.

The newspaper correspondents of Washington were having their biennial row over the election of the standing committee to represent them at the capitol in connection with the senate committee on rules and the speaker of the house.

Ex-Senator Chandler, always liking to be around where there is a row, came along and asked about the battle. He was given full information.

"How about So-and-so?" he asked.

"Oh, he has voted," was the reply.

"Well," said Chandler, "that eliminates him. The least important man in the world is the man who has voted." — Saturday Evening Post.

A Kiss and Its Penalty.

For kissing a stranger in a moment of exuberance an eighteen-year-old waitress at Tetschen has been sentenced to fourteen days' imprisonment. The offense took place at the railway station two nights ago, and the injured man complained at once to the police, and the girl was arrested. So impressed was the magistrate with the heinousness of the crime that he increased the severity of the sentence by ordering the girl four fast days in the fortnight and also directed that after completing the sentence she should be banished from Bohemia and sent to her home in Dresden.—Prague Letter to Pall Mall Gazette.

The Meanest of All.

Here is an editor who has been touched in a sore spot. The Okmulgee (I. T.) Democrat says this of some residents of its town:

"A man may use the mole on the back of his neck for a collar button, he may ride a freight to save 3 cents a mile, he may light the lamp with a splinter to save matches, he may stop his watch at night to save wear, use a period for a semicolon to save ink and pasture his grandmother's grave to save hay, but a man of this kind is a scholar and a gentleman compared to a man who will take a newspaper and when asked to pay for it put it back in the postoffice, marked 'Refused.'"

The Languages of France.

One result of the new census will be to determine the number of people speaking the old provincial languages. Flemish is no longer spoken except in a small part of the Pas de Calais. Catalan exists alone in the eastern Pyrenees. Mistral, the poet, has revived Provencal as a literary language, but the peasants scarcely understand it. The two languages which are best preserved are Basque and Breton, spoken respectively by 100,000 and by 1,000,000 mouths.—Petit Parisien.

Fatal Cobwebs.

The application of cobwebs to stop bleeding from a wound on his finger, received while feeding a chaff cutter, caused the death from lockjaw of William Philpott, sixty-five years old, of Minster, Sheppey. A verdict of "accidental death" was returned at the inquest.—London M...

NATURE SPARES

The Stricken Rose From Grief.

What a fortunate provision of nature it is, that deprives the rose of mental suffering; for how poignant would be its grief to discover, in the height of its blooming glory, that a canker fed at its heart, and that its beauty and fragrance were doomed forever. Nature always spares the suffering; she is a veritable store-house of pleasing rewards, for those who seek her aid. In the years gone by falling hair and grayness have cast a gloom over the lives of thousands of young women, but thanks to the investigations of scientists the true cause of hair destruction is now known to be a germ or parasite that burrows into the hair follicles. Newbro's Herpicide absolutely destroys this germ, thus permitting the hair to grow as nature intended. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

onized by those whose interests would be affected by the establishment of such a service, however, when it was established, its advantages were so apparent and its benefits so numerous, that no community would willingly surrender them, nor would any individual find many supporters in any locality who would advocate the curtailment of the privileges, yet this service was launched only after the greatest difficulty, and for three successive years appropriations had been made by Congress for the purpose of experimenting with routes in rural districts before it was put into successful operation, and during this time it had to run the gauntlet of unfavorable reports by committees of the House of Representatives.

It was condemned by the House Committee on Postoffices and Postroads of the Fifty-third Congress, of which John S. Henderson of Salisbury, in this State was the chairman, as a scheme impossible of execution, which "would require an appropriation of at least twenty millions to inaugurate it." How far Mr. Henderson was wrong you gentlemen are as well able to judge as anyone.

In 1894 the first appropriation of $10,000 was made for this service and the amount was found so small that no effort was attempted to launch it, again in 1895 a similar amount was appropriated and with like results, to be followed in 1896 by the same action.

This made $30,000 available for this purpose and with this amount, to which was added a friendly disposition on the part of the Congress then in session the present rural delivery service was inaugurated, by the establishment of, after many expressed misgivings on the part of the then Postmaster General, three routes at Halltown Uvilla, and Charlestown, W. V., on Oct. 1st, 1906.

North Carolina was not backward in putting in her claim for recognition and on October 23rd, 1896, there was a route put in operation at Chinagrove, Rowan county.

From all over the country a stream of petitions came pouring into the department, asking for consideration, and it being found that this service was of greater benefit than its most ardent advocates had claimed for it, the department cheerfully resopnded to the importunities of the people, and this infant of but a few years, developed into a giant of the most magnificent proportions.

To illustrate: Up to the year 1897 there had been appropriated in all, $30,000 for this service, and in that year, which I have stated was the year of its establishment, there was appropriated $40,000, since which time its progress has been such that the present Congress has provided in the appropriation bill now under consideration the enormous amount of $26,000,000 in round numbers.

In 1897 there had been established 83 routes, while there are now in operation in the neighborhood of 50,000 and those routes supply mail to fully 18,500,000 people by bringing to their doors the complete postoffice, for the service does not stop by the mere delivery of mail, as the rural patron can at his door obtain a money order or send a registered package, and know that it is surrounded with the same security as if it had been brought to the office and deposited there.

To further illustrate the growth of this arm of the postal service I will state that for the maintainence of the rural delivery feature there is as much money needed and appropriated as there was for the conduct of the entire postal service of the country in so recent a year as 1872, the expenditures of that year being $26,658,192.31.

Our own State has kept abreast with the progress of the service for the records show it was among the first to have the benefit of this service, yet in February of 1902 there were employed in the State, but 51 carriers whose monthly pay-roll amounted to $2,116.83, while on April 30th of the present year there are 1,138 on the pay-roll and the amount disbursed monthly in the shape of salaries is $65,469.28 which is not such a bad showing for North Carolina, and she is not through yet.

As to the personnel of the service I will be silent for there is no use in taking up your time, by telling you nice things about yourselves; the work you are engaged in gives ample scope for admiration, as it was a grand conception, most grandly executed, and conducted, for the benefit of a class that had hitherto not received the consideration, their intelligence, investments, and worth in the body politic so justly entitled them. The food of the nation comes from its farms. The population of the Union is increasing at the rate of one-million people annually, the rural area remains the same. It then becomes a matter of the greatest and gravest importance that the men who remain on the farm should be of the best caliber. With the advent of the rural delivery and the rural telephone, the farmer's son is now contented on the old homestead and the glamor of the city holds no allurements for him. Thus is the future of the Nation assured and thus are you gentlemen by your daily travel in the performance of your duties, become the modern soldier of civilization, and the bulwark of the Nation. I again bid you welcome in the name of the people of Wilmington.

CONGRESS' PLANS WERE SET ASIDE

House Committee On Appropriations Reveals Astonishing State of Affairs

LAW ABSOLUTELY SET ASIDE

Congress Appropriated $1,500,000 for New Agricultural Department Building But President and Secretary Wilson Without Authority Changed Plans.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 30.—What members of the House Committee on Appropriations regard as an absolute disregard of the law authorizing the construction of the new building for the Department of Agriculture is revealed in the hearing before that Committee on the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill. In 1903 Congress approporiated $1,500,000 for this building. It was the general understanding that this amount was for the erection of a complete building for the accomodation of the entire Department. It was with some astonishment that the members learned last week that "somebody" has ordered the construction of two wings of what may be some day a completed building and that the two wings have practically exhausted the million and a half dollars approporiated for a complete structure. Moreever, their astonishment was not lessened when they were informed that the two wings when completed will not begin to accomodate the force of the department, and Congress will be called upon to appropriate another couple of millions to fill the space between the two wings.

Considerable irritation was developed during the hearing before the Appropriation Committee and Secretary Wilson, Dr. Galloway and other officials of the Agricultural Department were questioned concerning what is said to be a direct violation of law. When F. S. Gardner, mechanical engineer of the Department of Agriculture testified before the Appropriations Committee, he was asked if he knew the limit of cost of the entire building and replied that he did—that it was $1,500,000.

In reply to a question from Mr. Tawney as to why the Department did not construct the building within the limit of cost fixed by Congress and in a maner that would accommodate the Department with all of its various branches as prescribed by Congress, Mr. Gardner answered that "they constructed within the limit of cost exactly what they needed for their present work and when their future work comes up they will have to put up other buildings."

It developed further from Mr. Gardner's testimony that the administrative work of the Department would continue to be carried on in the present buildings, although Congress provided that it should be torn down. Further than that Mr. Gardner said that the two wings in question were being constructed "for laboratory purposes."

"Do you know," asked Mr. Tawney, "who is responsible for the plans of the building that is now being erected that was authorized, accepted and approved?"

"The Secretary of Agriculture," replied Mr. Gardner.

Mr. Gardner then testified that $37,000 worth of useless work had been done in order that the site for the building might be moved forty feet.

"On whose recommendation was the change made?" asked Mr. Tawney.

"There was a meeting at the White House, and it was decided by the Secretary and the President that the buildshould be moved—and also a representative of the Park Commission," replied Mr. Gardner.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson was questioned at some length before the comimttee and made a long prepared statement in defense of the present construction.

"How can you justify your position?" asked Chairman Tawney. "When you made your plan, if you became satisfied that $1,500,000 was not enough, I should have thought you would have informed Congress before going on with the plan you adopted."

"You have a wrong idea in your mind there," said Mr. Wilson. "We made a plan to exhaust $1,500,000. We built in such a way that Congress might add to it, and we made no plans but for our building."

Dr. Galloway and Mr. Wilson, contradicting the testimony of Mr. Gardner who have preceded them, insisted that the wings would accommodate the administrative force, but both admitted that they did not contemplate tearing down the present administrative building as directed by Congress.

Members of the committee assured Mr. Wilson that they did not suspect his integrity or take issue with his wisdom at this time, but that they did not think he had authority in law for what he had done. The Secretary curtly replied:

"You make a law without consulting a soul in the Agricultural Department with regard to its necessities. The man who drafted the law came pretty near the needs, and I made the most of it."

GREAT OVATION FOR ROOSEVELT AT PORTSMOUTH DECORATION DAY

Saluted by Booming Cannon From Warships and Forts and Greeted By Thousands of People Anxious to Honor Chief of The Republic

HIS ADDRESS HEARD BY A GREAT THRONG OF PEOPLE

BEAUTIFUL SHAFT UNVEILED TO MEMORY OF FEDERAL DEAD—PORTSMOUTH WAS PROFUSE LY DECORATED AND PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT PASSED THROUGH SOLID LINS OF PEOPLE—THE EXERCISES.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Portsmouth, Va., May 30.—President Roosevelt joined the people of Virginia today in a beautiful and impressive tribute to the nation's dead. Under the auspices of the Army and Navy Union, the organization of the officers and enlisted men of the United States Army and Navy, the President delivered the memorial day address here to an audience numbering thousands. Immediately after delivering the oration of the day President Roosevelt unveiled a monument erected in the Naval cemetery by the Army and Navy Union to the memory of its dead comrades.

President Roosevelt, accompanied by Mrs. Roosevelt, his sister-in-law, Miss Carew, and two of his children, Miss Ethel and Master Quentin, made the trip from Washington to Portsmouth on the cruiser Mayflower. As the ship with the President's ensign flying at her peak, swept past Old Point Comfort, a salute of twenty-one guns was fired from the battery, at Fort Monroe. When the Mayflower entered the Portsmouth harbor the vessels of the North Atlantic fleet saluted in turn. At 9:30 President Roosevelt landed from the Mayflower at the navy yard. He was received by Rear Admiral P. F. Harrington, commandant of the station and escorteo to a carriage in waiting to convey him to the Naval cemetery.

BLUE AND GRAY IN PROCESSION.

Both sailormen and marines from the warships were on parade in the yard to assist in the reception. The procession was formed immediately and proceeded to the grounds of the Naval Hospital where the exercises of the day were held. The procession consisted of several thousand men from the North Atlantic fleet, Army and Navy Union organizations, Grand Army veterans, camps of Confederate veterans and many other societies.

Portsmouth was beautifully and patriotically decorated. Business houses and residences were ablaze of red, white and blue, and the quaint old city gave such a reception to the President as even Mr. Roosevelt seldom has received. The procession moved from the Navy Yard to the Naval Hospital grounds through solid lines of people, and the President was received with marked enthusiasm. A notable feature of the demonstration was the part taken by the school children who at various places along the line of march greeted the President with the strains of the Star Spangled Banner and the waving of tiny American flags. A pretty incident occurred as the head of the parade passed the Confederate Veterans were passed in review by the President. Recognizing Colonel W. H. Stewart, commandant of the camp, President Roosevelt stopped his carriage, shook hands with Colonel Stewart and chatted with him for a minute or two. The great throng on the street enthusiastically shouted its aproval. The exercises of the day took place in the great woods of the naval hospital grounds. A temporary stand had been erected for the President and distinguished guests. Around this the various organizations which particiated in the parade formed a hollow square. are.

Citizens and invited guests to the number of several thousand attended the ceremonies. At 11 o'clock the exercises were opened with prayer by Bishop Van de Vyver, of the Catholic Diocese of Richmond. President Roosevelt was introduced by Colonel J. Edwin Brown, National commander of the Army and Navy Union. The President's address followed.

SHAFT UNVEILED.

When the President had concluded, a procession was formed to the cemetery adjoining, where he unveiled the beautiful shoft erected by the Army and Navy Union.

The President and Admiral Harrington, followed by Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Harrington, then returned to the navy yard where they were the guests of the Admiral at luncheon.

At 2 o'clock the President left on the Mayflower for Hampton where he late in the afternoon delivered a brief address to the students of Hampton Institute.

OLD SOLDIER TRIED TO SPEAK TO ROOSEVELT.

A few minutes after the President reached the speaker's stand in the naval hospital grounds, a silver-haired Confederate veteran, a member of Stonwall camp of this city approached the stand bearing a large American flag. He asked to speak to the President, but his request was not granted. He then passed to Admiral Harrington a note for delivery to the President. The note read as follows:

Mr. President.——An old Confed-erate veteran wishes you much joy and pleasure. I am supporting the Republican cause ever since the re-adjuster party came into power. I wish to speak to you, but will desist now on this occasion. Hope you will be of some help to me.

MR. ROOSEVELT ADVISES NEGROES

Spoke to Students at Hampton Institute of Education and Industrial Work

HE LIKED DARKEY SINGING

Told oClored Students That the Education of Negro Makes It Better For White Man—Urged Industrial Training.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Hampton, Va., May 30.—A notable address was delivered to th estudents of Hampton Institute this afternoon by President Roosevelt. He dwelt particularly on the necessity for the development of character, not only in the negro, but in the white man as well, maintaining that education alone would fit neither for decent citizenship unless aecompanying it there was the right type of family life in the home.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt and their party arrived off Old Point Comfort in the Mayflower shortly before 4:30 o'clock and was taken ashore in launches. The hundreds of negro and Indian students of both sexes were assembled in front of the administration building of the institute and received them with a cordial welcome of song. The buildings were handsomely draped with flags. The President was escorted to the veranda of the administration building from which he made his address. Before the address the students sang with remarkable effect some characteristic songs. At the conclusion of one of them, "A Great Camp Meeting in the Promised Land." the President applauded heartily and shouted "More, more." The students, in response, sang "We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder."

Dr. Frissell, the principal of the institute introduced the President, saying in conclusion:

"We believe in you; we honor you; we love you. We believe you are come to bring peace to earth and good will to all men."

President Roosevelt spoke extemporaneously and with deep earnestness.

He began by saying, after the students had given him a cordial welcome, that they were no more anxious for him to visit them than he was to visit the institute. Speaking directly to the negro students he said:

President's Speech to Negroes.

"Now the first thing upon which I wish to lay emphasis is that a school such as this, which strives to raise the colored man and colored woman, to make them better men and better women, better citizens, is pre-eminently in the interests of the white man. There is nothing that can be better for the white man who is to live side by side with the colored man, than to train the colored man up to be a good citizen. The good man, who is a white man, by his presence is a benefit to every colored man in the community and the safety of the white man is in having the colored man grow to be a

WEDDING DAY FOR ALFONSO

Madrid Aglow Last Night With Fireworks and Electrical Illuminations

NUPTIALS WILL OCCUR TO-DAY

Startling Story of Plot to Assassinate King As He Leaves Church With His Royal Bride—Features Yesterday.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Madrid, May 30.—All Spain is rejoicing on the eve of the wedding of King Alfonso and Princess Victoria and the capital has not seen such scenes of enthusiasm during the present generation. To-night the whole city is aglow with fireworks and electrical illuminations, while the streets are thronged with dense masses of people. All the central points from Puerta Del Sol to the Pardo are literally packed. As the decorations and illuminations take on their most lurid hues, it is a motley throng, with touches almost barbaric—swarthy Moors wrapped in flowing robes and with red turbans on their heads. Asturian dancers performing their native jota, gypsies from Cordova and Seville, Salamancan herders in red velvet and tinselled gold, with many representatives of Spain's clergy and hordes of blind beggars singing the melancholy music of old Spain. At the corners bands play for street dancers. The municipality has given free rein to the popular rejoicing. The schools and the whole population has given itself up to celebrating the King's marriage.

Wedding Contract Signed.

The chief events of to-day were the King's reception to the foreign envoys, including the representative of the United States and the signing of the wedding contract. The latter ceremony took place at the Prado Palace in the presence of Premier Moret and the other cabinet ministers, with the solemnity befitting a great State ceremonial affecting the future succession to the throne.

The witnesses of Princess Victoria were Sir Maurice Bunsen, the British Ambassador at Madrid; Polo y Bernabe, the Spanish Ambassador at London, who was the Spanish Minister to Washington when the war between Spain and the United States broke out; Lord Hugh Cecil, Marquis de Viana, an intimate friend of King Alfonso, and Marquis de Villalobar. The witnesses for the King were Premier Moret, Senor Maura, former president of the council; General Azcarraga, former premier; General Montero Rios, former premier; the Duke of Sotomayor, Chief of the Royal Palace; the Marquis de LaMina, chief of the Royal Hunt; General Pachecco, chief of the halberdiers, and the Marquis de Borja, intendant general, there representing the statesmen, the royal household, the army and the nobility.

MICHAEL DAVITT DIES IN DUBLIN

Famous Irish Statesman Passed Away Peacefully After Notable Career.

FAITHFUL WIFE PROSTRATE

News of Eminent Husband's Death Kept Scret from Her—Lord Hemphill and Other Distinuished Personages Show Sympathy. Retired Representative.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Dublin, May 30.—A notable career closed to-night, when after a long and painful illness, Michael Davitt, died peacefully and painlessly at 12 o 'clock, in the presence of his oldest son, Michael, and his two daughters, who devotedly attended him through his illness and many of his most intimate friends, including John Dillon. Shortly before his death Father Hatton had been with him. Mrs. Davitt, who has been in constant attendance on her husband, until a few days ago, when she herself was taken ill, lies prostrated in the same hospital, too weak to leave her room. She has not yet been informed of her husband's death.

It is stated that Mr. Davitt left a written message, but if so, its purport has not transpired. The greatest sympathy has been displayed by all classes of society during Mr. Davitt's illness. To-day the hospital was besieged by anxious inquiries. After a rally last night, Mr. Davitt was able to speak to those at his bedside, but soon showed that he was losing ground.

Among the last callers at the hospital to-night was Lord Hemphill, on behalf of the Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, and the Countess of Aberdeen.

Mr. Davitt retired from the representation of South Mayo in Parliament in 1899, but to the last took keen interest in the politics of his country.

Death was due to blood poisoning which followed two operations for necaris of the jaw bone and spread so rapidly that all efforts to stay its course was unavailing.

CHAIRMAN HEPBURN TWITS MR. ELKINS

West Virginia Senator Endeavoring to Get Change Made in Senate Anti-Free Pass Amendment to Railway Rate Bill

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, May 30.—"You are honor bound to stand by the Senate amendments," said Chairman Hepburn of the House Committee on Interstate Commerce to Chairman Elkins, of the Senate committee at the conference on the rate bill today, when the latter called up the anti-pass amendment and endeavored to get some action in the way of perfecting it. Under the rule of conferences, the House will have to suggest the alterations in amendments made by the Senate. All of this discussion was in the way of chaff, and as Senator Elkins remarked, the House conferees are disposed to hold up the Senate's "various pieces of monumental folly" as long as possible.

"Anyway," said Senator Elkins, in retort to good natured gibes, "if the House had passed a good bill the Senate would not have been led into these follies." He referred to what he termed the inconsistency between the pipe line and the coal amendments, as well as what has become known as the "pass monstrosity."

Chairman Knapp and Assistant Secretary Decker, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, were before the conferees explaining the various amendments made at the request of the Commission, relating to the administration of the bill. None of these amendments affects the workings of the proposed law. No action was had on a single amendment. The conference adjourned at 2.55 o'clock for the reason that the Senate cafe was closed on account of the legal holiday and the conferees were hungry. The next session will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow.
